ELECTION AFTERMATH

Some Interesting Things in Connection With the Contest.

COUNTY PROHIBITION VOTE.

Towanda's Oldest Voter Walked to the Polls—Returning Board Finished on Saturday—Results in Tioga and in Wayne Counties—Complete Figures.

The Republican Advocate of Wellsboro before election had the state and county Republican ticket at the head of its editorial column with the exception of Plummer's name for state treasurer. Instead of his name there was a heavy black line.

The Philadelphia Inquirer's first page heavy faced line "The Only Republican Paper in Philadelphia," was removed the day after election.

William Griffis, aged 90 years, who resides at the corner of Third and Pine streets in Towanda, walked to the Second ward polls and cast his ballot. Mr. Griffis was at one time one of the active political workers of the county and he has always retained great interest in elections.

The Prohibition party in Bradford county is in a flourishng condition at the present tme. Part of this is due to the energetic and practical work of Rev. W. S. H. Heermans of Towanda, the county chairman. At the election on Nov. 7 the Prohibition candidates polled a heavy vote and when there is a sharp fight between Republicans and Democrats they hold a balance of power. Their vote on the county ticket was as follows: For sheriff, William P. Ellsworth of Wyalusing had 1,239 votes; C. P. VanDyke of Ulster for prothonotary had 733, M. D. Stiles of Athens for treasurer had 879, C. J. Sumner of New Albany for register and recorder had 823 and J. C. Beecher of LeRaysville for commissioner had 949 votes.

Hon. C. S. Russell, J. J. Spalding and W. E. Lane, Esq., the official tabulating board for Broadford county, began the tabulation of the returns Thursday in court room No. 2 at the court house. A mistake of the board in the Second ward gave H. H. Bentley, the Citizens candidate for the office of county commissioner, 60 more votes than he polled, according to the open return but the tally sheet had it correctly recorded. This mistake was simply made inadverdently and was caused by counting the straight Democratic votes to both Mr. McNulty and Mr. Bentley.

The official returning board, which consists of Hon. C. S. Russell, W. E. Lane, Esq., and J. J. Spalding, completed its work on Saturday afternoon and the certificates of election are now being issued to the successful candidates. A copy of the tabulated returns is filed here and one at Harrisburg. The certificates of election are signed by Judge A. C. Fanning. The complete vote was as follows:

State Treasurer.

J. Lee Plummer, R. and C., 3,723; W. H. Berry, D., P., I. and L., 4,187; Robert B. Ringler, Soc., 94; E. J. Drugmand, Soc. Lab., 28.

In Wayne County.

In Wayne county Berry had a plurality of 551. The following county ticket was chosen: Sheriff, Roadknight, D.; prothonotary, Hanlan, D.; register and recorder, Gammell, D.; district attorney, Harmes, D.; county commissioners, Hornbeck, and Madden, R., Mandeville, D.; county auditors, Larrabee and Lesher, R., Jones, D.

Elections in Tioga.

In Tioga county Berry had 2932 votes for state treasurer and Plummer 2729. The county officers chosen are as follows: Judge, David Cameron, R. and D.; Prothonotary, Edson J. Catlin, R.; register and recorder, Ransford W. Field, R.; county commissioners, Henry H. Cooper and Philip H. Dewey, R., and Samuel O. Pitnam, Ind.; county auditors, Mark Rockwell and Frank Watkins, R., and Frederick H. Smith, D.

In Wyoming County.

In Wyoming county Berry had a plurality of 275. The county offices elected are as follows: Associate judge, Vaughn, D.; sheriff, Travis, D.; prothonotary, Major, R.; register and recorder, Decker, R.; commissioners, Shupp and Robinson, D., Fassett, R.; auditors, Clark and Russell, R., Osborne, D.

YERDON—STANTON.

Pretty Church Wedding at Burlington Last Week.

At the M. E. church, Wednesday, Nov. 8, at noon, occurred the marriage of Miss Maud Stanton to Rev. E. J. Yerdon, both of Burlington. The church was tastefully trimmed for the occasion, the colors being white and blue ;the altar was banked with a profusion of chrysanthemums, ferns and potted plants. At the sound of the wedding march, played by Miss Lettie Kendall, the groom entered at the left, accompanied by the best man, Rev. J. A. Lydal of Amber, N. Y.; following at the right came the bride and the bridesmaid, Miss Anna Laura Hill of Elmira. Preceding them were the four ushers, Stuart Essenwine, Manly Bird, Henry Ross and Robert Hill. The Misses Jessie Kendall and Dora Ross, Sunday school scholars of the bride, opened the gates and the bridal party met beneath a beautiful arch of evergreens where the impressive ceremony was performed by Presiding Elder W. G. Webb, the ring service being used. The bride and the bridesmaid were both daintly attired in white, made over blue, the former carrying cream roses, the latter pink carnations.

A reception was held at the home from 12:30 until 3 p. m. A sumptuous wedding dinner was served to over 50 guests. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. She is one of Burlington's most highly esteemed young ladies, and the groom has won numerous friends during his stay there. All will join in wishing them a blissful wedded life.

This is a Good Watch.

A remarkable occurrence is reported from Smithfield village. George Hyde, the jeweler is rejoicing over the fortunate ending of an unfortunate incident. About two years and a half ago while repairing a watch for a certain party he loaned him his own watch. The customer lost it and all sarch proved unavailable so the watch was paid for and the search given up. A short time ago Fred Sumner, in picking up chestnuts on the farm of Mrs. James Collins, found the watch which seemed to be in good condition, having a water tight case. He acordingly wound it up and found it to be all right. He at once restored it to its owner.

Medical Society Meeting.

The monthly meeting of the Bradford County Medical society was held at the court house Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Campbell of Smithfield was admitted to membership. Drs. Fish and Cummings of Sayre and C. M. Woodburn of Towanda were appointed a committee on program for the coming year. Dr. Ott of Sayre showed a specimen of an appendix removed from a man and in the appendix was a concretion the size of a hazle nut. There was a general discussion of miscellaneous topics by the doctors present.

Change at Postal Telegraph.

Walter S. McClen, the efficient operator in the Postal telegraph office, has resigned his position there and yesterday became assistant train dispatcher on the S. & N. Y. railroad. His new position is in the nature of a decided promotion. Frank L. McGill will have charge of the Postal office, which will be a guarantee of prompt and efficient service at this end of the wire.

Early Cold Weather.

Voluntary Weather Observer Hiram E. Bull reports that his thermometer at the East Towanda station registered 12 degrees above zero at sunrise Tuesday morning. There are only three days in the past ten years in November which have shown lower temperatures. Hornbrook residents claim that thermometers there showed a zero record Tuesday.

Real Estate Sold.

George Ridgeway and A. J. Pollock have purchased the lot at the corner of Second and Pine streets from which the old wooden school building has just been removed. Eventually they expect to build upon it, but no plans have been made as yet. The property was a portion of the estate of the late Henry Stevens.

BOARDING PRISONERS

Price Fixed at Twenty-five Cents Per Diem by Court.

TAKES EFFECT ON JANUARY 1.

Sheriff-elect Job Griffin of Athens Offered No Objection to the Fixing of This Amount—What Prisoners Eat. Other Interesting Facts.

Judge A. C. Fanning on Tuesday morning officially fixed the compensation for boarding prisoners and to be allowed the sheriff of Bradford county at 25 cents per diem, to take effect Jan. 1, 1906 as prayed for in the taxpayers' petition. In commenting on it, Judge Fanning in the record says that this is approximately the price paid to the House of Refuge at Glen Mills, the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory at Huntingdon and the Eastern Penitentiary at Philadelphia, for the maintenance of prisoners committed from this county.

The hearing in the matter was held before Judge Fanning on Saturday afternoon. The petitioners were represented by Hon. F. N. Moore of North Orwell and his attorney was William Maxwell, Esq., O. L. Haverly of Athens represented Sheriff-elect Griffin of Athens and stated that Mr. Griffin would acquiesce and offer no objection if the price was fixed by the court at 25 cents each day for each prisoner.

What Prisoners Eat.

Testimony was then taken, Miss Mary Wilt acting as stenographer. Mr. Moore, in response to questions asked by his attorney, said that he had made careful investigation of the matter of the board furnished prisoners at the jail and the cost of the provisions. Those who wish to lead the simple life may get some ideas from Mr. Moore's findings. He said that the present sheriff used a high quality of provisions and that the prisoners fared well. He said the menu was as follows.

Breakfast—Bread, potatoes, coffee. The bread consists of two slices about 1½ to 2 inches thick.

Dinner—On Sunday, ½ pound of beef, potatoes, two slices of bread and tea. Three days of the week dinner consists of soup made of beef soup bones with potatoes added and a part of the time rice and sometimes carrots. The other three days of the week the dinner consists of bread, beans, pork and tea.

Supper—Usually consists of two slices of bread and one pint of skimmed milk. Other suppers are made up of bread, molasses and tea.

According to Mr. Moore no butter is given the men nor is milk, cream or sugar served with the coffee. Giving costs, Mr. Moore said that he had found out that the bread costs four cents a loaf. It is bread one or two days old but is thoroughly wholesome and of good quality. The meat used is what is known as boiling beef and costs about six cents a pound. Soup bones cost 25 cents each and the ration of potatoes for each prisoner a day would cost less than one cent, according to Mr. Moore's calculations and deductions. He thought that a pound of good coffee such as is used at the jail, would make 95 large cups. Beans cost three cents per pound and skimmed milk costs four cents a quart. Good tea can be purchased for two pounds for the quarter and molasses is 20 cents the gallon.

The Weekly Cost.

From these prices Mr. Moore calculated that the cost of the raw material used in boarding prisoners would not exceed 52 cents a week, using 25 prisoners as a basis of estimating costs. This does not include the price of coal for the kitchen range which the sheriff furnishes nor the cost of cooking and other incidentals. Mr. Moore also submitted to the court a list of the prices paid in other counties for boarding prisoners, some of which equalled and exceeded but many of which were less than the price paid in this county. The average price paid was 32 cents a day.

In the year 1903 the sheriff of Bradford county received the sum of $2,605.00 for boarding prisoners. This was at the rate of 40 cents a day. Dividing this sum by 40 and multiplying by 25, the sum to be paid next year gives $1,628. This will mean at the same figures a saving of $977 a year in the matter of boarding the prisoners. Dividing this by the 22,456 taxpayers would give a per capita saving to each taxpayer of four and three tenths cents a year.

Fast Runs.

The Black Diamond Magazine for November says that the Black Diamond has recently made two very fast runs between Easton and Jersey City. One of the trips 65.5 miles was in 65 minutes and on that occasion the Diamond was a very heavy train. In the second instant the train left Easton at 8:29 and landed passengers at the 23rd Street pier at 10:15. On the latter run 31.2 miles was made in 27 minutes.

H. MERCUR ALLEN TELLS PITIFUL STORY TO OFFICERS.

Former Towanda Man Attempted Suicide Near Philadelphia.

H. Mercur Allen, a former well known and popular Towanda young man, an employe of the government printing office at Washington, who sent his wife a letter last week, in which he said he intended committing suicide and that his body would be found at a certain spot in the Chelton Hills, north of Philadelphia, surrendered himself to the police of that city Sunday night.

He told the authorities that after making one attempt to die he had reconsidered the matter of life and death and had decided to live, though he knew he would be a disgrace to his family. Allen announced to the police that he was short $2,200 in his accounts of the Printers' Beneficial association, which is composed of government printers and of which he is treasurer.

Allen said that from Washington he went direct to Abington, Pa. There he purchased laudanum and went to the spot designated in his letter, where he drank the poison and lay down to die.

The poison did not produce the results he desired and after a long, heavy sleep he awoke. After that, he said, he decided to live. He walked to Philadelphia, a distance of fifteen miles, and after wandering through streets nearly twenty-four hours, during which time he suffered mental and physical torture, he decided to surrender himself to the police.

The reports in the various Philadelphia newspapers give widely dif ferent accounts. One paper says that Allen borrowed $1,000 before he left Washington while another says that he had only ten cents with which to purchase laudanum. Several accounts state that Allen said he wanted to die near Abington, where he was born and spent his early years. He was born at Towanda and some of the story told by Allen is so remarkable that his friends here believe that he is mentally deranged.

A dispatch from Philadelphia on Monday stated that Allen was given a hearing before United States Commissioner Bell, and in default of $1,000 bail was held for transferrence to Washington. He was taken to Washington Tuesday.

Allen appeared in court with bowed head and unsteady step, showing the severe mental and physical suffering he has undergone within the last few days, and repeated his story of the misappropriation of the funds in his care told to the Philadelphia officers, stating that he took $1,000, but Detective Parham of the Washington police says that the amount will reach nearly $3,000.

POLICE CHIEF ARRESTED.

Patrick Reagan of South Waverly Objected to Waverly Encroachment.

The feeling that has existed for a long time between the police officers of South Waverly borough in Pennsylvania, and the village of Waverly, in New York state, culminated last week when Officer Patrick Corcoran of Waverly, swore out a peace warrant against Officer Patrick Reagan of South Waverly, charging assault.

Reagan, who is the only officer employed by the borough of South Waverly, has shown himself aggrieved at the action of Waverly officers in coming across the state line into his bailiwick after fugitives and has warned the Waverly officers to keep off his streets, using threatening language. The action was commenced against Reagan to determine just what status the Waverly officers may have to pursue their business across the State line.

Chief Reagan is under bonds to keep the peace and is to appear in court in Towanda on Nov. 24.

YOUNG MAN KILLED.

Adelbert Cyae of Wysox, Struck by Lehigh Valley Train No. 4.

Adelbert Cyae, aged 18 years, was instantly killed about a mile below the Wysox station Tuesday afternoon by train No. 4. It is not known just how the accident happened. Keyes was not overly bright and was a little deaf and it is supposed he was loitering along the track and did not hear the oncoming train. The engineer saw that he had struck some one and stopped his train.

The body was taken to Standing Stone on the train that struck him and was brought back to Wysox on the evening local. Keyes lived with his step-father, Theodore Martin, mile from Wysox and was near his home when killed.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Wysox church.

End of Finger Cut Off.

Edward Sabin of Towanda, who is employed with the Susquehanna & New York railroad, had the first joint of the first finger of the right hand taken off in a peculiar manner on Saturday night. He was under a car at Ellenton fixing a brake when another trainman coupled the air hose. This set the brake and Sabin's finger was caught and [illegible]pped off.

TEACHERS AT LAQUIN

County Educational Meeting Held There Friday and Saturday.

OLD OFFICERS REELECTED.

An Interesting Program Carried Out and Many Pertinent Topics Discussed—Teachers Take a Half Day to Inspect the Busy Lumber Town.

The regular meeting of the Bradford County Educational association was held at Laquin on Nov. 10 and 11. The lecture on Friday evening was given by Rev. E. A. Gernant of Towanda, his subject being "What, Why and How in Education."

The Saturday session was held in the hall, and the usual routine of business was gone over. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, H. S. Putnam; vice-president, J. H. Humphries; secretary, Helen M. Hickey; executive committee, F. W. Gorham, R. B. Allen, W. C. Barbour, Clara Curtiss, Elizabeth Shannon.

The first subject was an "Outline of Work for the Ungraded School of Seven Months," by F. W. Gorham. An outline of a course of study for the different grades will be sent to the teachers this year. Classifying and grading are not the same. Teachers will have to use their own judgment in following out this course. Discussion led by Mr. Morrison. Miss White and others.

"Civil Government in the Schools" by G. A. Saxton. Civil government should be taught in every school, not necessarily from text books at regular periods, but as a supplementary work. Special talks may be given on Friday afternoons. An election may be held in the school.

Discussion was led by Miss Riggs, Miss Webb and others.

"Recollections of the County Institute," was the subject of an address by C. G. Campbell, who gave a brief summary of the best points given by Dr. Corson, Superintendent Lose, Prof. Albert and others of the institute instructors. In his opinion the best advice was that of Prof. Albert, "Hustle and pray."

R. B. Allen told "Why Bradford County Teachers Should Join This Association." These are the days of organized labor. All professions and trades have unions for the betterment of the members' condidtions, for the education of public sentiment. Teachers should have this benefit also. This association by its action at the time when the minimum salary bill was pending directed the action of the senator and representatives from this county. We need to educate public sentiment in the county. We need the encouragement to be obtained from others in the same profession. The association cannot get along without funds. It should be self supporting.

"To What Extent Should the Common Branches Be Taught in the High School," was the subject assigned to J. H. Humphries of Towanda. Reading is most important and should be taught in connection with all High school subjects, but not as a separate study. Good spelling must be insisted upon by every teacher. Correct position in writing should be insisted upon. Good English should be used on every paper and in every recitation. Geography may be taught in connection with history, Greek, latin, etc. History is provided for in the regular course, but extra work may be given in connection with other subjects. Discussed by Mrs. Stiles, Miss Eveland and others.

It was decided to hold no afternoon session, but to spend the time in visiting the various mills of Laquin.

FIFTY YEARS WEDDED.

Golden Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Champlin of Orwell.

On the evening of Wednesday, Nov. 1, about 100 relatives, neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Champlin of Orwell, made them a surprise visit at their home. After the congratulations were over a delightful evening was spent and refreshments served.

Rev. S. A. Chubbuck offered a prayer, and W. E. Lewis of Wyalusing, in behalf of the friends of the venerable couple presented them a gift. Short talks, expressing the love and esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Champlin are held were made by Rev. N. W. Barnes, C. N. Beers, F. I. Champlin and Rev. S. A. Chubbuck, to which both responded.

Thanksgiving at North Orwell.

On Thanksgiving night the new grange hall at North Orwell will be dedicated, and a feature of the occasion will be a lecture by Dr. B. H. Warren of Harrisburg, the foremost authority on the birds of Pennsylvania, on the "Life, Habits and Economic Relations of Birds to Agriculture." The annual hunt of the sportsmen of that section of the county will be held on Thaksgiving day.

HEARING ON TREASURER'S FEES IS ADJOURNED.

Commissioners and Auditors Take No Action on the Matter.

Another hearing in the matter of the petition to the county commissioners and county auditors to fix the fees of the county treasurer at a sum not to exceed $1,500 a year was held at the commissioners' office on Thursday with Commissioners Kinney, Harkness and McNulty, and Auditors Donovan and Bosworth present. Hon. Frank N. Moore was present to advocate the action of reducing the fees to the sum named and he was represented by William Maxwell, Esq. County Treasurer-elect W. Frank Waters of Athens borough was also present and was represented by John C. Ingham, Esq.

Mr. Moore insisted that this present board of commissioners and auditors should fix the compensation of the ensuing treasurer but the board expressed itself as not willing to do something which would have no binding effect on the incoming board which would have four out of the seven members new men. One of the board expressed himself as favoring a reduction and another thought that $1,500 was sufficient but a motion was finally made that the hearing be adjourned until the first Monday in January when the new board of commissioners and auditors organizes. This motion was carried.

This did not suit Mr. Moore at all as he wanted this board to fix the sum and said that if the next board wanted to change the amount it could. He said that the action of the board was not at all satisfactory to the taxpayers who signed the petition. The standpoint of the commissioners was that the matter was one which should properly come before the next board and that it was useless for the present board to take any action.

The Different Views.

Mr. Maxwell stated at the hearing that last year the amount of fees received by the treasurer on county and state moneys amounted to about $3,142.00. The county treasurer must give bonds of $130,000 and the present treasurer is said to have to pay $300 to a bonding company for this amount. A deputy treasurer is paid by the county treasurer out of the fees of the office, and this expense is about $600 a year. The petitioners represented by Mr. Moore claim that $1,500 should cover the compensation of the office but there is another class who think that this amount is too low and that if any reduction is made it should be to one that is more commensurate with the responsibility of the office. The matter will probably be thoroughly aired and discussed before the next hearing the first Monday in January.

Booth—Pierce.

Robert N. Booth of Waverly, and Catharine A. Pierce of Towanda, were united in marriage Tuesday afternoon by Rev. O. A. Houghton, D. D. of the Methodist Episcopal church. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Eunice Pierce of Towanda, and has been employed in N. Sussman's tore.

Eggs are an economical ration at any price under 15 cents a dozen. When they get above this figure they become expensive and may be classed as luxuries.

In a speculative way much real estate is traded in by speculators unsight and unseen. While this may be all right for the speculators, it is all wrong for the man who wants to make a home.

A few years ago this country was dependent largely upon Spain for all the raisins it used. Now California entirely supplies the home demand and has a surplus left for less favored countries.

When the wild fowl begin to migrate to the south it is time to begin to get ready for winter in good earnest. We always feel sorry for these fellows who always wait for winter to come before they get ready for it.

For the first time in the history of the west there are many farmers more proud of the highways which they have cared for the past summer adjoining their farms than any other thing connected with the farm.

About as much money can be made off a small piece of land when devoted to celery culture as any other crop which can be raised. This is a crop which requires quite a good deal of hand labor and not a little skill, but it pays the grower very handsomely.

There is hardly a spot on the continent where in any unsettled part it is necessary for a settler to go through the hardships and privations the pioneers of fifty years ago had to endure. Everywhere the railroad is in advance of the settler, and the building of a home in a new country is today a picnic compared with what it used to be.

Wheat, barley and oats are the most adaptable of all crops grown by the farmer. These will grow and do well from Texas to Assiniboia, where they are assured of a sufficient supply of moisture. Corn is much more sensitive to the question of latitude, demanding a greater degree of heat and moisture and a much longer season in which to mature.

We noted a field of corn on which the owner had sown rape at the time of the last plowing. The rape was not very good in October; neither was the corn. It is a pretty hard matter to get two crops at once off the land, and it may be pretty safely assumed that all catch crops sown in corn, whether rape, vetch, cowpeas or soy beans, are always grown at the expense of the corn crop.

There is near Philadelphia a market gardener with just one acre of land, and he grows each year pieplant to the value to him of $125 from the roots which he has planted right under the wire fence which surrounds his lot. We know of thousands of farmers all through the west who grow ten feet of most luxuriant weeds along all the fence rows on their farms, and they do not get $125 out of them either.

Hunting bee trees is quite a favorite pastime in the fall where the native timber is still unmolested. It is an old unwritten law that the bee tree and its honey belong to the man who discovers them, and this law is generally respected in the newer portions of the country, but where the country is well settled the real law comes in, and the tree and the bees belong to the owner of the land upon which they may be found.

The agricultural department at Washington has undertaken a series of interesting experiments with the sweet clover plant to determine what its value is as a soil renovator for wornout soils. This plant is one of the most easily and surely grown of all the legumes—in fact, has a way of introducing itself to the extent that it is rated as a weed pest through much of the country. It grows rank and tall on the poorest soils and seems as much at home on a clay knoll or a sandbar as on the richest alluvial soils. It has always seemed to us as though it must have some mission, and if it possesses the same soil nitrifying power that clover or alfalfa have there is a lot of land where it can do good work upon which these plants will not grow at all.

Waste acres on the farm lie in connection with the depression which needs tile draining and which in a wet season never produces any crop save weeds, with old straw stack bottoms scattered in spots over the grainfields, with the pasture so heavily stocked that the growth is mostly weeds, with the ten foot strip of weedy waste which lies adjoining so many line fences, with the rod wide strip of good land which, dedicated to the public for highway purposes and not used, should instead be growing some crop of value instead of weeds, to many a steep hillside which men will persist in cultivating when it should grow nothing save grass or timber. Before seeking more acres in Canada or Dakota a man should look over the old farm and see where he can reclaim a lot of land to which he already has title.

FISH, GAME AND CIVILIZATION.

Man naturally likes to fish and hunt for a living. He is not to blame for this, as it is an instinct which comes to him in a hereditary way. The simple ability to be able to make a living in this manner quite often interferes with any desire on his part to make what we call progress and develop the country, for the nearer in a wild state he can keep the country the better the hunting and the fishing and the easier will it be for him to make a living that way. The abundance of fish and game in the southern states has always been a hindrance to the development of the colored race, there being nothing which a modern civilization can offer him which will take the place of hunting the coon and the possum and catching mud cats in the streams. Thus the mongrel bred hound became almost as much of a fixture around the home of the colored man, and also of the poor white, as was the bunch of pickaninnies playing around the door or the sallow faced white woman dipping snuff. White and black met on common ground in the hunting field, while the bay of the hounds on the trail of the bear or the deer was the sweetest of music to both races. Just in proportion as the game disappears civilization advances and fewer becomes the number of dogs kept, and as soon as the last coon and possum are exterminated the colored brother will be able to respect his neighbor's chicken roost and melon patch and not have to be converted every winter.

One of the evidences of the decadence of our modern civilization is found in the fact that women take more kindly to pug dogs than they do to babies.

The department stores have done one good thing at least—they have educated farmers to the great benefit to be derived from paying cash for goods instead of running book accounts.

The black currant which is so extensively grown and used in England and on the continent is very rarely found in our American fruit gardens. We do not understand why this should be so, as the fruit has a very fine flavor and there would seem to be no reason why it would not do as well as the red and white varieties.

With prices for farm products remaining as they have been for the past ten years, the quarter section farm intelligently managed and cultivated should pay the owner a salary of $1,000 a year and 7 per cent interest upon his investment. It could be made to do better than this. If it is not done, and in many cases it is not, something needs looking into before a man goes to finding fault with the administration.

The Dutch, the Netherlands people, who live and prosper on land which they have reclaimed from the North sea, hold $261,000,000 of American railroad bonds and stocks, and still we have lots of people who live on better land, which cost them less than $10 per acre, who cannot ever hope to get rid of the ancient mortgage upon it, let alone ever owning a bond of the railroad which runs through the farm. A very thrifty set are those Dutch.

Nineteen hundred and five is a fat year for all the great west and northwest, good crops everywhere, no warping droughts, no untimely frosts, the fall season just a genial roundup of the best of weather conditions, insuring a perfect maturing in a natural way of all crops and the gathering and saving of them without waste. And with all the abundance of the crops the prices of all farm produce remain at very satisfactory and profitable figures. It is not claiming too much to say that the farmers of the country as a whole are in a very prosperous condition. There should be a good time this Thanksgiving on all the farms, and a big turkey should be in process of fattening to properly celebrate the holiday.

It is in order to suggest the imperative necessity of looking after all young fruit trees this fall and see that they are properly protected from the rabbits during the winter. When the cold weather comes there is nothing which bunny likes quite so well as the tender bark of the apple tree, and even one or two rabbits can do a hundred dollars' worth of damage in a very short time by girdling the trees. We have had our fight with these pests and have found that the best way is to hunt them down persistently with dogs and ferrets and pay a premium for every rabbit killed in the vicinity of the orchard. We have also used poison quite effectually, a grain of strychnine inserted into a section of apple stuck on a stick and placed in their runways. In addition, we have always wrapped the trunks of all young trees with paper, and in the use of these preventives have escaped with but small loss from this source.

There is a class of petty offenses which afflict every civilized community with which the law deals altogether too leniently. There is the case of the man who comes home drunk and abuses his wife, the neighbor who will persist in keeping hens in town to tear up your garden, the boys who rob melon patches and orchards, the chicken thief, the killing of song birds and the spoliation of their nests, the men who plaster the floors of smoking cars and the sidewalks with tobacco juice, the violation of the laws protecting fish and game, the people who are cruel and unkind to animals and to women and children—a class of offenses which are rarely adequately punished, if punished at all, and which some way seem to need some quick and effective treatment such as all good citizens feel like administering when such cases arise. We know that the public whipping post is regarded as a relic of barbarism, but the fact remains that in every community there are cases than which no kind of punishment would be more fitting and proper.

PASSING OF THE PRAIRIE CHICKEN.

The year 1905 sees the almost total extinction of the prairie chicken in Iowa, Minnesota and all the eastern half of Kansas, Nebraska and the two Dakotas. This splendid game bird is disappearing just as did the buffalo and the passenger pigeon. It is simply impossible for it to hold its own with pot hunters, market shooters, repeating and breechloading shotguns and the utter indifference and contempt with which the American people regard all laws for the preservation of wild life. We well recall the days when these birds contributed not a little to the well being of the pioneer settlers, when they were so numerous that at times they were very destructive to the corn crop unless it was husked early in the fall, when one could go out after a rain in August with a good dog and knock as many birds over with an ox gad as he wanted and when it was easy to trap them by the dozen in the winter in the cornfields. In those days prairie chicken, plover, mallard ducks and pickerel, pike and bullheads formed the staple meat rations of nearly all pioneer communities, varied with rabbits and venison in winter. The migratory wild fowl—geese and ducks—have not suffered so much from the furious onslaught, but year by year they are more carefully avoiding all the more densely settled sections of the west.

DAIRY SANITATION.

We feel that it is always in order to say a word about sanitation in the dairy business, the imperative necessity of cleanliness in all that pertains to the production of milk and butter. No substance is more sensitive to bad odors than milk, and nothing will absorb and retain them so well. The gospel of cleanliness should begin with the attire and the personal habits of the man who cares for and milks the cows; it must be omnipresent in the cow barn, always observed in the care of all utensils used in the business. The all too common practice of wetting the teats of the cow with her own milk in the milking process is a dairy sin of the worst type, when a drop or two of vaseline accomplish the same purpose and will not innoculate the milk. It is probably stating an unpleasant truth to say that it is the introduction of cow manure into the milk in the numberless ways which are easily possible where dirty dairy methods prevail which more than any other thing is the primary cause of bad flavored butter. It requires not a little work to keep the dairy cow and the methods employed in the milking clean, but if one is not willing to recognize the importance of cleanliness in this business he had better let somebody else keep the cows.

A NOVEL BANQUET.

We attended a banquet not long since, and we believe no such banquet was ever before given in this country. It was given by the business men of a western town, where bad roads have been the rule since the country was first settled, to about fifty farmers living in the territory tributary, these farmers having agreed with the aforesaid business men last spring to take care of about fifty miles of country highways by the new method of dragging them after every hard rain. The work accomplished was in every way so excellent and beneficial to the trade of the town that the banquet was given the farmers in recognition of their good work. It was certainly a novel and altogether unique function, and the plan adopted by both business men and farmers might well be adopted by other communities to their very great advantage. Just compare this with the old way of working the roads, where the men who were working out their tax were easily found under the shade of a cottonwood tree spinning yarns at $2.50 per day. It is further worth noting that the work done by the fifty farmers was all gratuitous and done in addition to paying their road taxes. Where men feel this way the bad road will soon be a thing of the past.

A big point has been made in the use of the manure spreader in this—that the hired man really likes to get out the manure from the barnyard when one is used. Under the old method there was no work on the farm which was more distasteful to him.

There is no doubt that people beyond the age of sixty and having sufficient means can materially prolong their days and to a greater extent enjoy their remaining years of life by selecting a home in southern California. The mild and even climate makes it a model place for worn out nerves and tired old bodies.

Wherever it is possible to feed off crops on the land where grown it is always good for the land. This is a much more common custom in England than it is in this country, the enormous crops of turnips and quite a good deal of their vetch and clover crops being fed off in sections by sheep by the use of portable fences.

What He Seems.

"Who is that youngster?" asked the visitor to the sanctum.

"That," replied the editor, "is just the new office boy."

"Oh, his face seemed familiar"—

"Perhaps it is, but his manner is more so."—Philadelphia Press.

Too Methodical.

Hicks—My wife is very methodical. She's always got a place for everything and everything in its place. Wicks—So has mine, but I can never find the place.

If we rightly estimate what we call good and evil we shall find it lies much in comparison.—Locke.

Prosecutor Late.

Because Cornelius Vanderpool was 20 minutes late in showing up at the hearing set before Justice Meredith Tuesday morning on a charge made by Cornelius that Mrs. Alice A. Smith had seized a $5 bill out of his hand, the defendant was discharged. It may be that Cornelius's gallantry came to the rescue and that this is the reason why the trouble in which Alice A. was apparantly plunged has melted away like the gentle dew before the warm sun.

THE BEST COUGH CURE

Cough syrups are all cheap enough, but if you should get a gallon of cough syrup that does not cure for the price of a small bottle of the best cough cure, you would have made a bad bargain—for one small bottle of Kemp's Balsam may stop the worst cough and save a life, whereas the cough "cure" that does not cure is worse than useless.

DEATH ROLL OF A WEEK

William Horton.

A Rock Rapids, Iowa, paper gives the following obituary of a native of this county, who has a great many relatives here:

"The death of William Horton occurred on Monday morning, Oct. 30, after an illness of two weeks. The immediate cause of death was kidney trouble.

Wm. Horton was such a well known and respected citizen of Rock Rapids that it is no wonder that a large number were present to pay their last respects, and do homage to the departed. The funeral was in charge of the Masonic order of which he had been a member for a great many years. Many followed the funeral cortedge to its last resting place in the Rock Rapids cemetery on Wednesday, the services at thegrave were necessarily brief, but none the less beautiful.

"Mr. Horton was the member of no church society but worshipped Nature's God. Throughout his early pilgrimage extending over a period of 83 years, he lived a life above reproach; honesty was his watchword. He was an active and industrious man, a kind and dutiful husband and father. Though his remains lie coffined in the narrow walls of the grave, moulding to dust he will live long in the hearts of his neighoors and acquaintances.

"The deceased was born in Sheshequin, Bradford county, Pa., June 6, 1822, and was married in 1843, his dutiful wife still survives him, after a wedded life of 62 years, singularly beautiful by their close attachment for each other.

"Six children were born to this union, four of whom are now living. They are Relzman Horton, Glidden, Iowa; Mrs. Mary M. Gaylord, Lanark, Ill.; Mrs. S. N. Barrett and F. A. Horton of this city all of whom were at his bedside in his last hours. He was a resident of this city for 18 years."

Lebbeus Ellis.

Lebbeus Ellis, who was many years a resident of Burlington, died at his home in Franklindale Wednesday of last week of neuralgia of the heart, aged 77 years. Mr. Ellis was born in Putnam county, New York state, June 30, 1828, and lived there and in Dutchess county until he was 21 years of age when he moved to Burlington. Here he lived most of the time since and was engaged in farming and lumberng for many years.

In the fall of 1892 he moved to Franklindale. He was a veteran of the Civil war, serving with the Two Hundred and Seventh Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers. Mr. Ellis was converted when he was 14 years of age and united with the Baptist church. He was a faithful and devoted member of the same to the end of his life and a deacon in the same for over 30 years. He was a life member of the Baptist Home Mission society.

In early life he married Miss Sarah Selleck, and to them nine children were born, six sons and three daughters. Mrs. Ellis died in 1875 and since then five of his children have passed to the other world. Four children survive him: Mrs. Abigail Crane and Miss Sarah Ellis of Franklindale, Horatio of Mountain Lake and Job of South Burlington. The funeral was Saturday at 1 o'clock at the house, interment at Mountain Lake.

Mrs. Burton J. Gillette.

Mrs. Burton J. Gillette died at her home at Hornbrook Monday morning at 6 o'clock after a brief illness. She was operated on by Dr. C. H. Ott of Sayre on Monday of last week and apparently rallied successfully but a few days ago her temperature began to rise and death ensued. She was 61 years of age. Her maiden name was Flavia A. Crotsley and she was born at Owego. She was an active member of the Methodist Episcopal church and was highly regarded by all who knew her.

Besides the husband, she is survived by one sister, Mrs. B. L. Gillette of Hornbrook and the following children: H. W. of Binghamton, Wilson D. of Athens, Lester C. and Lewis B. and Miss Grace Gillette of Towanda.

Funeral services were held at the home at Hornbrook on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment in the cemetery at that place.

Mrs. Mary A. Frutchey.

Mrs. Mary Frutchey, widow of Reuben Frutchey of New Era, died at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Annie Frutchey in this place on Saturday at noon from the effects of a stroke of paralysis suffered a few days previous. She was an earnest Christian and her death will be deeply mourned. She was 78 years of age. She is survived by the following children—Heber of Scranton Joseph of Scranton, Lee of Ithaca, Leslie of Taylor and Mrs. Dorr Jones of New Era, and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Susan Koons of Shickshinny, Mrs. Sophia Boston of Town Hill, near Shickshinny, and Dr. Clinton Bacon of Harveyville. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of her daughter at New Era with interment at that place.

Colonel S. B. Shipman.

Colonel S. B. Shipman died on Sunday morning at his home in Chicago, aged about 80 years. Colonel Shipman was at one time a resident of Towanda and was married to a sister of the late E. O. Goodrich. Colonel Shipman was a well known architect and builder and built the Ward House here. He also constructed a number of other buildings and residences in Towanda.

From Towanda he went to Madison Wis., and continued at his profession there. Afterwards he removed to Chicago. He is survived by a second wife and the following children: Dr. Charles Shipman of Ely, Minn., Mrs. Anderson of Milwaukee and William and Miss Cornelia Shipman of Chicago.

Mrs. E. S. Rundell.

While attending to her household duties in her home in Athens on Monday, Mrs. E. S. Rundell was suddenly stricken with heart trouble and before physicians reached her, she had expired.

Mrs. Rundell's maiden name was Alice Leonard, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Leonard of Burlington, where she was born 44 years ago. She leaves a husband, three daughters, Clara, Maud and Ruth and two sons, Leonard and Dean. She is also survived by her father, mother and one brother who live in Burlington.

The funeral services was Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Dr. Simpson officiating. Interment will be made in Tioga Point cemetery.

Mrs. Rundell's husband is a brother of E. D. Rundell of Towanda.

Mrs. Sarah Carr.

The death of Mrs. Sarah Carr, which occurred Saturday evening at her home in Ridgebury, has ended a long and useful life. Mrs. Carr was a most estimable woman; she was 93 years old Oct. 4, and had lived 74 years in that town, and nearly all that time, on the farm on which she died. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Davidson and Mrs. Katherine Sible of Williwanna, and Mrs. Emma Sible of Harrisburg; a grandson Eugene Allen, who has lived with her always. Funeral services Monday at 1 o'clock at the home, conducted by Rev. Fred Allen of Athens.

George Harden.

George Harden of Sheshequin, a fireman on the Great Lakes, died Saturday night in a hospital in Cleveland, Ohio, from injuries received by falling into the hold of the "Joliet-Marquette" of the Pittsburg Steamship cobpany's line. The body will be shipped to his home for interment. Harden was 36 years old and leaves a wife and three children, the oldest being six years of age.

Mrs. Amelia Thrasher.

When it was thought she was rapidly recovering from an operation, Mrs. Amelia Thrasher of Dushore suddenly said "Oh my heart" at the Robert Packer hospital Wednesday morning and ten minutes later she was dead. Mrs. Thrasher who was 41 years of age, was operated upon at the hospital Monday morning and she seemed to recover with exceptional rapidity from the operation.

Mrs. Mary Wilkinson.

Mrs. Mary Wilkinson died at her home in Ulster township on November 8, after a brief illness. Her death was entirely unexpected and will come as a great shock to her many friends. Mrs. Wilkinson was a fine woman and will be greatly missed. She was about 60 years of age. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Frank, Burt, Earnest and Nettie.

Whitcomb Phelps.

Whitcomb Phelps died at West Burlington at 1 o'clock on Sunday morning from general debility, aged 70 years. Mr. Phelps was born in Burlington township but until a short time ago had lived in the West for a number of years. Funeral services were held at the home of John Blackwell in West Burlington on Tuesday at 1 o'clock with interment at that place.

Raymond Wells.

Raymond Wells died on Saturday night at his home on Plank Road street of pulmonary consumption, aged 29 years. He is survived by his parents and seven brothers and sisters. Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at the house at 10 o'clock with interment at Riverside cemetery.

THE SPECIAL SESSION.

Governor Pennypacker has issued a call for an extra session of the legislaure, to begin on Monday, Jan. 15 next, to adopt certain reforms which he specifies as follows.

Greater Pittsburg.

The safeguarding of the state funds and the securing of greater interest on deposits.

Legislative reapportionment.

Personal registration.

Repeal of the Philadelphia "ripper."

The building of county bridges.

The abolition of the fees of the secretary of the commonwealth and of the insurance commissioner.

All these reforms are desirable and some of them have been demanded by the people of the commonwealth for years. The re-apportionment of the Senate and Representative districts although required by the constitution has been postponed from year to year by the legislature. The others have become burning issues by the events of the past year and the results of the recent election. Whether the legislature that passed the Ripper bill and refused to consider the other questions on which legislation is asked by the government, will give adequate consideration to them now, is a question. It is believed by many that more satisfactory treatment of them would be given by a new legislature fresh from the people and pledged to the reforms asked for.

But is it idle now to speculate upon what might have been. Governor Pennypacker's action should be accepted by all as being sincere and inspired by a patriotic desire to reform the abuses which long have been a crying evil in our politics and state government. It is certainly a step in the right direction and will give deep satisfaction to all who desire better administration of the affairs of our state.

There is said to be 70,000 consumptives in the State of Pennsylvania, of whom 15,000 are in the city of Philadelphia. Since nutrition and out of door living have ben so largely introduced as factors in the cure of the disease, it is claimed that there has been a reduction of forty five per cent. in the number of deaths of consumptives in the State.

The recent action of the people in smiting hip and thigh those iniquitous political trusts which have lived on corruption and held their power through stuffed ballot boxes and bogus primaries leads to the conclusion that the commercial trusts must have a care. There may be more smashing done if the trusts continue to disregard all principle of right and fairness as some of them have done.

The constant increase of wealth in the United States, outstripping even the growth of population, is indicated in the staement of the amount of money in circulation issued by the Treasury Department. The circulation per capita on November 1 was $31.69, which is the highest yet reached. A year ago the per capita was $31.38; on November 1, 1903, it was $29.99; in 1902 it was $29.36; in 1901, $28.72 and on November 1, 1900, but $27.82. The total amount is circulation is now $2,653,131,578, being an increase of $69,654,917 during the year, and of $513,950,166 since November 1, 1900.

A young girl threw a rose in the dust, in a moment of thoughtlessness. In a moment she was sorry and picked it up again, but its bloom and beauty were gone, the dust clung to its petals, and its delicate fragrance was destroyed. That rose was her reputation, and one thoughtless act had ruined it. She could say "I meant nothing bad," and "I didn't think," but it will never bring back the bloom of the rose. There are some girls in this town trampling roses under their feet, who to-morrow will say, "I didn't think."

There is a soul at the center of nature, and over the will of every man. The whole course of things goes to teach us faith. We need only obey. There is guidance for each one of us, and by lowly listening we shall hear the right word.—Emerson.

The Reading railroad is paying its employees in cash instead of checks, chiefly because the checks were cashed in hotels and saloons.

WHO KILLE DCOCK ROBIN?

The Democrats of Bradford county did a good thing for themselves when they nominated Job Griffin, of Athens for Sheriff. They builded better than they knew. Since election, hundreds of people have been able to make it plain as day why the Republican candidate was defeated, but these same prophets "after the fact" were quiet enough before election and knew no more about it than anyone else. Their "hindsight" is good but their foresight is not in evidence.

The result was a surprise to all, to Democrats as well as to Republicans. No one looked for Mr. Codding's defeat.

The nomination of Mr. Griffin, the sheriff elect, was a wise move on the part of the Democrats. He is a man of personal worth and strong character, well known in the county, a successful business man and farmer, possesed of considerable means, president of a bank, personally popular, and he lives at Athens.

The fact that he lives in Athens is not without significance. What it is worth to a candidate to have his home in Athens or Sayre has been clearly demonstrated before now, and does not need particular explanation here. Athens is a good place to hail from if you are running for office in Bradford county.

The tweny-five cent circular had something to do with it. There is no doubt of it. It was a good card to play. Mr. Griffin sent out thousands of circulars a few days before election in which he promised to board the prisoners in the county jail for $.25 a day per prisoner. The Sheriff now gets $.40. The matter had been brought before the public and, fortunately for the Democratic candidate, was fresh in the minds of the people. Through the recent efforts of the Eastern Bradford Taxpayers Asociation the circular was well timed, dealt with a pertinent matter and no doubt made voters for Griffin.

Mr. Codding was beaten by 243 votes. The causes given above—the Democratic candidate per se, the fact that he came from the most popular part of the county where he received many complimentary votes, the twenty-five cent circular—were enough to acount for a good many of them.

Mr. Bentley, the Independent candidate for Commisioner, failed of election, but he did not fail to draw the attention of the Republican campaigners away from the rest of the ticket. The Republicans took it for granted that the rest of the ticket was sure of election and gave their energies to defeating Bentley. But the rest of the ticket was not as well off as it was thought to be. The majorities throughout went down, and the sheriff majority went down until it became a minority.

Then, cutting the ticket was in the air. The returns from every quarter show it. Berry carried Bradford County and lots of Republicans helped it on. The muss in Philadelphia and the developments in the Enterprise Bank of Allegheny helped it on. When a Republican starts in to slash the ticket you can't tell where he will stop. There was plenty of dissatisfaction everywhere with the existing order of things and Bradford county shared it and spoke out at the polls.

Then again there was the Temperance issue. The Prohibition candidate for Sheriff, an excellent man, polled nearly 1300 votes, more than double the number polled in some former years. Nearly all of this increase comes from the Republican ranks. Still another factor in the defeat of Mr. Codding was the apathy of his friends because of their confidence in his election. If there had been any doubt in their minds as to his success, the result could easily have been changed right here in the Towandas. There are, we are aware, still other causes to which his defeat has been ascribed. But explanations are now futile. It is to be deeply regretted that so good a man as Mr. Codding has been defeated. The one thing now that remains for Republicans to do is to profit by it—to profit by the mistakes that now are so plain to all, and out of this nettle, defeat, pluck the flower, victory.

Sometimes it pays a man to keep his wife posted to his business. A Titusville man advertised in a local swer which struck him favorably, and after corresponding some time through the newspaper office he found out that his wife was trying to sell their old lawn mower.

ELECTION RESULTS.

The election returns this year were full of surprises, not only in this and other states, but also in our own county. Last year Pennsylvania gave Roosevelt a majority of nearly half a million and two years ago with a light vote the Republican candidate for state treasurer was elected by a majority of 137,000. This year the Democratic candidate for the last named office is chosen by a majority of nearly 100,000. Ohio, for many years a very Gibraltar of Republicanism, elects a Democratic governor by over 40,000 majority. In these two strong Republican states the reversal of the usual verdict is hardly less surprising than the result in New York city where the Tammany nominee is elected for mayor by a narrow 4,000 majority over Hearst, who charges that this result was acomplished by the grossest frauds. He claims that the investigation already begun will show that he is the rightful owner of the office.

Even more surprising than this cutting down Tammany's strength was Jerome's gallant fight in defiance of all political organizations and his election in spite of them. When he started in to make the fight his repudiation of political parties and his declaration of independence seemed quixotic and factious. But its very desperation seemed to strike a responsive cord in the public mind and the Jerome movement grew like a rolling snow ball until the wonderful contest became the center of interest for the whole country, and his success has been reeived with almost universal satisfaction.

The greatest surprise was in Ohio. That there was disaffection in that state over local affairs was known but the most sanguine Democrats did not venture to claim the large majority that Pattison received. Maryland joined the list of states that have gone back on the bosses. The suffrage amendment on which Senator Gorman made his fight was defeated by a majority of nearly 30,000. Massachusetts which elected a Democratic governor last year, turns back to her Republican faith.

In Pennsylvania the reasons for Republican defeat are too plain to be ignored. The same causes that produced a revolt against party leaders in Ohio, New York, Maryland and other states, were felt here and party lines sunk out of sight. This was an off-year so far as national politics were concerned, and this served to fix clearly and incisively the attention of voters on state and local issues. Each contest had its especial character but all partook of the same nature. It was a revolt against the mismanagement of party leaders, against the selection of candidates by a few instead of nominations by the ballots of the people. It was a protest against the denial of legislation which the people had repeatedly asked for, and the mismanagement of the state's business by the political dictators who maintained their power by the appeal to selfishness and used it for the aggrandisement of their own fortunes. This was accentuated by the revolt in Philadelphia and the disgraceful failure of the Enterprise bank of Allegheny. These incidents gave impetus and power to a movement that soon passed beyond the control of the party leaders. The nature of the returns show how strong and general was this revolution. It is seen, not alone in the size of the vote against Plummer in Philadelphia, but, also in the remarkable Democratic gains all over the state.

This result has been brought about by Republicans who are today no less Republicans than they were a year ago when they piled up a record breakng majority for President. It does not mean that the Republicans of this state are less staunch in their loyalty to the party than they have been in years past; but it does mean that the people are still supreme and that they have both the power and at times the will to overturn party dictators and party organizations, however strongly entrenched, when they forget the welfare of the people and the source from which all political power is derived. It means, also, that a new chapter in the state's political history has begun. All over the land there is an insistent demand for purer politics and a stricter accountability from those in power. It is seen in the demand for honest primaries and for a direct vote of the people in making nominations. It is voiced in the demand for better election laws, for personal registration, and for better business methods in the administration of state and national affairs. In this state, so imperative and impressive has this demand become that Governor Pennypacker, heeding it, has called a special session of the legislature to considere how it shall be met.

The Republican party of Pennsylvania faces a great opportunity. Freed from unwise leadership that long has strangled it, it will now, let us hope, return to the foundation principles upon which it has builded a matchless record of accomplishment and success. The extra session of the legislature soon to be held, will afford the opportunity to begin this work, and with new enthusiasm and new power may it enter upon its task.

LAW IS CONSTITUTIONAL.

Compulsory vaccination laws have been assailed in some quarters as in contravention of the fourteenth amendment to the federal constitution, which provides that no state shall make or enforce any law which would abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States. The Philadelphia Ledger, in commenting on the question, says that the supreme court of the United States met this issue for the first time in the recently decided case of Jacobson vs. Massachusetts, in which the compulsory vaccination statute of that State is sustained. It holds that the personal liberty secured by the fourteenth amendment against state legislation abridging the privileges of citizens is not infringed by a state law making vaccination compulsory.

The supreme court declares that the legislature was authorized to make a choice between the theory of those who regard vaccination as worthless or injurious and the generally accepted theory that vaccination is of the greatest value as protection against smallpox. The constitutionality of statutes making vaccination compulsory has been settled by a number of state supreme courts. The legislation has been held to be a legitimate exercise of the police power for the safeguarding of the public health. The federal supreme court now holds that the legislation is permissible under the federal constitution. The editor of the Green Bag, in calling attention to the decision, notes that the court sustains the right of the state to enforce a compulsory vaccination law with reference to adults, and by implication this sanctions the requirement as aplied to children attending school.

The Massachusetts law was attacked upon the plausible ground that it interferes with personal liberty and is opposed to the spirit of the Constitution. The court holds that this position is untenable. The police power of the State is very extensive and in its legitimate exercise the liberty of the individual may be reasonably restrained for the public welfare.

LABOR'S CONVENTION.

Progress In Past Year Reported by the Executive Council.

Pittsburg, Nov. 14.—The second day's session of the American Federation of Labor convention was rapped to order promptly by President Gompers, who called John Mitchell, second vice president, to the chair, and James Duncan, first vice president, read the annual report of the executive council. It gave in detail many of the points covered in the reports of the president, secretary and treasurer.

In the matter of the protection of children the executive council had bills introduced in the legislatures of many states, particularly in the south, prohibiting the employment of children in mills, factories, mines and industrial establishments. Some progress was made, but results during the year were not entirely satisfactory. President Gompers was authorized to enlist the assistance of other organizations in securing passage of legislation in all states prohibiting employment of child labor.

An assessment of 1 cent a member a week for a period of four weeks was levied on the entire membership of the federation for the benefit of the International Typographical union in its efforts to establish an eight hour workday in the job and commercial printing establishments in the United States and Canada.

The question of immigration was given consideration by the executive committee. It was shown that over 1,000,000 foreigners reached these shores last year and that there would be no decrease in the number this year. It was urged that efforts be made to organize this foreign element, as the low wages for which they now work are not only insufficient, but have a bad effect on all the American toilers.

The American Federation of Musicians offered a resolution, which was adopted by the convention, thanking the labor unions of San Francisco for supporting Mayor Schmitz against the enemies of organized labor. A telegram was ordered sent to Mayor Schmitz informing him of the action taken.

Cupid Closing Nevada Schools.

Reno, Nev., Nov. 14.—So many women teachers have recently married in Nevada that the educational work of the state is seriously threatened. Most of the teachers come from the east, and as a rule they are young and pretty. Nevada has always had a surplus of men, so it surprises few that after a few months the young women succumb to ardent wooers. Large salaries are offered and hundreds of teachers have been imported, but they soon resign.

CHEESE STOPS A CAR.

Limburger Sandwich the Hero of a Broadway Drama.

New York, Nov. 14.—"Can't you open the ventilators?" Frank Baumacker complained to the conductor of a Broadway car. "It's very close in here."

The obliging conductor opened the ventilator, then a window or two and the front door. The other passengers glared at Baumacker and called him a "fresh air fiend." He kept sniffing the air suspiciously until the man next to him exclaimed:

"You don't like limburger, eh? What? Well, why don't you get out? You make this place like a refrigerator for this sandwich I have in my pocket."

Baumacker, who lives at 216 East Twenty-first street, insisted that the man with the limburger sandwich get off. The car was held up, and a policeman arrested him.

"You are charged with obstructing traffic," said Magistrate Baker in the Jefferson Market police court. "There was a string of cars behind you longer than a funeral."

"Quite true, your honor," said Baumacker, cheerfully paying a two dollar fine, "but I objected only to riding in the hearse."

Rallying to Pennypacker.

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 14.—Since issuing his proclamation on Saturday, las calling for a special session of the legislature to consider reform legislation Governor Pennypacker has received assurances of support from a great many of the 243 members of the house of representatives and senate. The present prospect is that when the legislature meets on Jan. 15 a large majority of the members will be in accord with the governor and pass the legislation he has suggested.

Seeds For the Masses.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The annual distribution of vegetable and flower seeds by the department of agriculture will begin on Dec. 1, and before planting time, it is expected, the entire amount, aggregating 38,000,000 packages, will be in the hands of the people in all sections of the country. Congress for the past several years has appropriated $290,000 for this purpose.

Taft Back From Panama.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 14.—The United States cruiser Columbia, commander J. M. Boyer commanding, passed in the capes of Virginia bearing homeward Secretary of War Taft and party en route from the isthmus of Panama, where the secretary has been on an inspection tour. The Columbia sailed from Colon Nov. 7.

Dowie Ill, Names Son Successor.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 14.—John Alexander Dowie, self styled prophet of the Lord and head of the Zion enterprises, is reported to be in very feeble health, notwithstanding denials by his followers. He assembled his lieutenants, it is said, and asked them to swear allegiance to his son as his successor.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles—A Towanda Citizen Shows How to Cure Them.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Towanda people testify to cures.

J. A. Campbell clerk in M. J. Long's grocery store and living at 105 York avenue, says: "It is about a year since I had my first experience with Doan's Kidney Pills. At that time I was having considerable annoyance from pains across the small of my back. I have no doubt but the constant standing on my feet aggravated if it did not cause the trouble.. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I bought at Dr. H. C. Porter & Sons drug store, quickly stopped the attack. I was quite free from it then until a few weeks ago when there were symptoms of a recurrence. I again resorted to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills and as in the former case they brought about the desired result. This proved to my satisfaction that Doan's Kidney Pills can be depended upon."

For sale by all dealers.. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Dr. L. T. Connelly has tested eleven head of cattle for Robert Hurley of Wysox for tuberculosis, and found all of them free from disease.

James Rockwell of Athens, has moved to Smithboro where he has purchased the hotel which he recently conducted from James Bennett.

The wreck train from Sayre was called to Towanda Sunday afternoon to replace a loaded box car that jumped the track opposite the toy factory.

There is now said to be a demand for houses at Sayre. At one time the report was that Sayre was overbuilt but it now looks as if more dwellings were needed.

The funeral services for Michael McHale, who died in Allegheny, were held on Thursday at 9:30 o'clock at St. Agnes hall; interment in the Catholic cemetery.

Look out for the sewing machine man who comes to houses and claims that he has been sent there to repair the machine. He's a fakir and will try to get big money out of his victims.

Typhoid at Merryall.

There are reported to be two cases of typhoid fever at the home of W. F. Casselberry, who lives on the bank of the Wyalusing creek just across the bridge at Merryall. The patients are Mrs. Casselberry and her next to the youngest child. Besides the danger from contagion,it is claimed that the sewage from the home is thrown into the waters of the Wyalusing creek thus making the waters of that stream a menace to the health of all those that use its waters below that place. The physican in charge, Dr. P. H. Sumner of Camptown, states that both of the cases are very bad ones.

MANTUA'S FAIR SHOULD BE AN UNUSUALLY FINE ONE.

Many Fine Articles on Exhibition and Booths Are Pretty.

Mantua Hook and Ladder company, No. 4 of Towanda should have a successful fair this week. Their hall in the Foster block has been most attractively trimmed for the occasion and the booths are many and unusually well decorated. Many fine articles will be disposed of during the week and the fair holds every evening including Saturday. Attractions will be secured for the evenings and dancing will be permitted after the crowd has been and gone.

The hall is trimmed with flags, mirrors and other decorations. The first booth on entering is the postoffice. It is trimmed in the national colors with an eagle at the crest of the booth. Miss Lena Lewis is in charge and she is assisted by Misses Coryl Lewis and Miss Rose Corbett.

The Oriental booth is next and is a large booth made of portieres. Miss Lucy Kennedy is in charge and her assistants are Misses Lena Gerould, Harriet Obenauer and Emma Bonney. In this booth there is a fortune teller who will read your past, present and future—for a small consideration. In this booth also ice cream will be sold. In the northeast corner of the hall is a pretty rose tree, presided over by Mrs. J. J. Williams, assisted by Misses Katherine and Mayme Shay. The fish pond in the front center of the hall is made of red, white and blue bunting and is in charge of Miss Theresa Dyer, assisted by Misses Irene Bonney and Josephine Kennedy.

One of the prettiest and most neatly constructed booths is the fancy work booth, trimmed in yellow and white. It is in charge of Mrs. A. C. Scheufler and she is assisted by Misses Mayme Pyne, Helen Prince, Anna Clancy, Charlotte Lewis, Mrs. L. H. Stedge of this place and Mrs. A. S. Campbell of Elmira. Mrs. J. Frank Keating has charge of the domestic booth which is trimmed in red and white. Mrs. Keating's assistants are Mrs. Ira Aldrich, Misses Julia Aldrich and Agnes Welsh.

The candy booth is in the center of the hall and is a pretty one. Mrs. J. R. Lewis is in charge and she is assisted by Misses Bess Lewis, Bernadette MacNamara and Mary Dalton. The trimmings are green, white and rose. Soft drinks and ice cream are served in the room adjoining the dance hall. The general committee in charge of the fair are W. Ennis Kinsley, D. E. Kline and H. E. Stedge. Mrs. F. H. Johnson is in charge of the ladies' committees.

The Earlier Mail Service.

Division Superintendent Kinney of Sayre, was in town Friday to consult with Postmaster Turner about an earlier mail service over this division of the Lehigh Valley railroad. He was unable to make a definite statement as to the company's intentions, but says it will do all it can to meet the demand for an earlier service. It hopes to be able to make the time of arrival of train No. 157 at Towanda nearly an hour earlier.

WALTER WARDELL DEAD.

Injuries Received In Hunting Accident Proved Fatal.

J. Walter Wardell died on Saturday morning at his home at Liberty Corners from the effect of wounds received in a hunting acident on Thursday. Just how the accident happened is not known. Wardell and a young man by the name of Clark were hunting rabbits. Clark had crossed a fence and called to Wardell to follow. Hhe heard a shot and turning saw Wardell's hat fly in the air and his body fall to the ground. It is supposed that in going over the fence the trigger of Wardell's gun caught and discharged the weapon. The right ear was torn half off and the skull broken into for several inches.

It was two hours before a doctor could be secured and while Wardell made a remarkable rally on Friday his injuries were such that recovery was out of the question. The end came at about 10 o'clock on Saturday. Mr. Wardell was well known and popular in Towanda where he attended the graded and high schools. Several years ago he embarked in business at Liberty Corners with his father, William W. Wardell. He was married four years ago to Miss Alma Fetter of Poughkeepsie who with the parents survive. The deceased was 29 years of age.

Funeral services were held at the house at 2 o'clock on Monday; interment at Liberty Corners.

IN JUSTICE'S REALM.

Several Nearby Residents Run Up Against the Law's Strong Arm.

Lyman Heeman, Sr., John, Lyman, Jr., Francis and Henry Heeman and Simon Johnson will have a hearing before Justice Orcutt on Nov. 21 on the charge of stealing a ton of coal from the Lehigh Valley. Lyman, Sr., Fred and Lyman, Jr., will also have a hearing at the same time on the charge of breaking the seal of a freight car and taking a sack of flour, a tub of butter and a box of household goods. The complaints are made by Special Officer J. L. Doty and the arrests were made by Officers Doty, Miller, Hollon and Watson.

Pleasant Birthday Party.

In honor of his birthday, Henry Smithkors of Wilkesbare, the popular Lehigh Valley engineer, entertained a number of his friends at his home on Madison street, Friday evening. A dainty lunch was served and the evening was spent in games and musical selections. After the lunch had been disposed of Mr. Smithkors startled all present when he made the announcement of his engagement to Mrs Eleanor Walker of Sayre, the ceremony to take place in a few weeks.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Reader and sons, John and William, Mr. and Mrs. John Titus, Mr. and Mrs. Dornbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Hatmaker and son Charles, Mrs. Donnelly and daughters Laura and Hattie and son Ray, also a number of out of town friends.

An Ancient Book.

On Sunday of last week the family bible of the original John Keeler, who emigrated to Bradford county about 1800, came into the possession of his great-great-great-grandson, J. George Keeler. This book was published in London in 1712. It remained in the posession of the family for over a century, when by some change it was lost and remained so until about 1884. At this time it again came into the possession of 'Squire Eugene Keeler of Stevensville and remained so until his death, when it was safely kept by his wife, now Mrs. Henry U. Jones, who transferred its keeping to the present owner.—Le-Raysville Times.

TOWANDA BEAT OWEGO.

High School Foot Ball Team Won the Game Saturday 18 to 0.

The Towanda High school foot ball team defeated the Owego school team at the latter place on Saturday by a score of 18 to 0. Towanda and Owego were about equal in weight but the Pennsylvania players showed more knowledge of the game and better team work. There was a small crowd present and it was just as eager as a Towanda crowd is to get on the field and interfere with plays. The Owego High school team and the students showed the Towanda players the utmost courtesy and a return game will be played here on Thanksgiving day. The Towanda team has gotten out of the slump it was in at the Athens game and is playing fast ball. Towanda plays Wyalusing High school at Wyalusing on Friday. The lineup at Owego was as follows:

R.e., Rogers; r.t., Chubbuck; r.g., Smith and Silverman; c., L. Fairchild; l.g., Sammons; l.t., Mayer; l.e., Silverman and V. Piollet; q.b., Parsons; r.h.b., Strong; l.h.b., J. Ayers; f.b., D. Ayers. Smith went in to play right guard with a bad leg but was soon compelled to retire and Silverman took his place. The touchdowns were made by D. Ayers, Chubbuck and Rogers.

D. A. R. MEETING.

Monthly Session Held With Mrs. B. T. Hale on Friday.

The regular meeting of George Clymer Chapter, D. A. R., was held with Mrs. B. T. Hale, on Friday afternoon. Fifteen members responded to roll-call with items of national interest. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved. "William Penn as Proprietor," was read by Mrs. Edward Carter, Jr., and "Thomas Lloyd" by Mrs. P. L. Decker. A short sketch of William Harkness was read by Mrs. Hale. Very interesting current news, selected by Mrs. Parrott, were read.

The regent gave a graphic account of the state meeting of the D. A. R., recently held at Reading, to which she was a delegate. She spoke of Mrs. Patton, state regent, her appropriate remarks and attractive manner of presiding. Mrs. Donald McLean, president-general, was present. After partaking of dainty refreshments, served by the hostess, the chapter was adjourned.

Raising Railroad Tracks.

A big gang of Italian laborers, said to number 500, is working on the curve in the Lehigh Valley tracks at and above the toy factory, and Sunday appears to be no different from any other day with them. All the tracks for a considerable distance are being elevated from three to four feet. Some people profess to believe that the work is being done to bring the tracks up to meet the grade of a new bridge to cross the river above the present bridge, but the more probable explanation is that the work is in the line of the general repairs and straightening up for the winter season.

Will Spend a Year in France.

Mrs. S. C. Adams and Miss Thomas start for Paris, France, the eighteenth of this month where they will spend a year with their sister, Mrs. F. R. Welles. They will be accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Adams' son, Arthur H. Adams, who has been promoted from a position in the New York offices of the Western Electric Company to the assistant superintendency of the company's offices at Antwerp, Belgium.—Wyalusing Rocket.

Face in the Dirt.

Richard Morse of Sayre attempted to board the S. & N. Y. train at Monroeton after it had left the station, and was given a bad mix-up with the dirt and cinders along the track. His face and hands were scratched and bruised but no serious inuries were sustained.

Shoemaker Still Active.

Now that the fishing is ended Game Warden Shoemaker is looking after violators of the hunting laws. This week he picked up two men near Tunkhannock for hunting rabbits with a ferret.

Carrier Hurt.

Arthur Putnam, carrier on Canton R. F. D. No. 74, had a bad runaway Friday. His horse became frightened on a steep hill and ran, throwing Mr. Putnam out and cutting his face quite seriously.

Tonsiline Cures Sore Throat

The throat is one of the most delicate parts of the body. It is also one of the most important, and should be given the best possible care.

The throat is the gateway to the body. The air we breathe, the food we eat, the liquids we drink, all pass through it. It is very easily affected by cold, strain, exposure, etc., and Sore Throat is therefore one of our most common ailments. Strangely enough, it is also one of the most neglected.

Sore Throat is a very serious matter, for the whole system is in danger in consequence of it.

Every Sore Throat patient is a candidate for Tonsilitis, Quinsy, Diphtheria and other serious or fatal diseases, all of which can positively be prevented by the timely cure of the Sore Throat by the use of TONSILINE.

If taken in time a dose or two will do it.

TONSILINE is made to cure throat diseases and nothing else. It is the one remedy for this purpose sold largely in the United States. Every user endorses it; every physician, knowing its virtues, commends it.

The one most important thing to remember about TONSILINE is the fact that it really does cure Sore Throat.

GAMBEE—BROCKWAY.

Former Towanda Young Woman Married at Waverly, N. Y.

Lew S. Gambee of Romulus, N. Y., and Miss Clara Louise Brockway of Erin, N. Y., were married at the Hotel Norwood, at Wavery, N. Y., on Thursday afternoon. A wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's uncle, J. W. Shiner, at East Towanda in the evening.

An interesting incident of the wedding, which perhaps was more interesting to outsiders than to the couple, occurred here. They came to Towanda to be married at the home of Mr. Shiner by Dr. J. S. Stewart who married the bride's mother and who baptised the bride. When they went to the register and recorder's office in Towanda and the age of the bride was asked it was found that she was but 20 years old.

In this state minors must have the permission of parents or guardians. The parents are both dead and there was no guardian or any person with authority to give permission to the marriage in many miles. So the couple went to Waverly on No. 1, were married under the easier laws of New York state and returned to Towanda on the evening local for the wedding supper. They will be at home after Dec. 1, at Romulus, N. Y.

LAMP BLEW UP.

Big Rochester Lamp Exploded in Canton Millinery Store.

What might have started a very serious fire occurred on Wednesday evening of last week about 11 o'clock in Mrs. Daisy Hartranft's millinery establishment at Canton.

Mrs. Hartranft and her mother, Mrs. Pitcher, were working late trimming hats, when a large Rochester lamp which was sitting on a table exploded, the entire top blowing off, the oil and lighted wick falling on the table and floor.

The ladies succeeded in keeping the flames under control until aid arrived and kicked the lamp into the gutter and smothered the flames. Everything on the table was destroyed, and the carpet quite badly burned. No alram was given.

Young Boy's Heroism.

In the fire that occurred on the farm of William B. Dean near Wyalusing on Nov. 7, great heroism was displayed by Ben Dean, Mr. Dean's ten year old son. The lad rescued most all of the stock and in this work was assisted by his mother. Mrs. Dean was finally suffocated by the smoke and fell in the barn unconscious. At the risk of his life the boy dragged her out. Mrs. Dean's face and hair were burned but how seriously cannot be determined yet.

Purchased House.

James E. Meredith recently purchased of Mrs. Frank Delaney of Elmira the Woodruff house at the corner of Second and Franklin streets. Mr. Meredith has already begun making improvements and will place the sidewalk on grade. Several trees in front which were out on the sidewalk line were removed yesterday. Mr. Meredith will not move into the house at present at least as it is leased until April.

Unhappy Together; Unhappy Apart.

After eleven years of wedded bliss, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Simmons, of Galeton, were divorced four years since. She remained in the town with her daughter and he, a B. & S. conductor, went to Texas. He returned to Galeton recently and when they met they realized that they could not be happy apart. So to Wellsville they went and were re-united and will make Texas their home. "The course of true love, never did run smooth."

Weaver—Nevins.

On Wednesday evening of last week at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Weaver of Sayre, Miss Agnes Fanny Weaver was married to John Spencer Nevins. Rev. Frank T. Cady of the Episcopal church performed the ceremony. The wedding was a very quiet one on account of the illness of the bride's grandfather.

Arguments Made.

The arguments in the Asylum township school case in which the petitioners are endeavoring to have the directors removed for failure to open an advanced school there, were concluded Thursday. William Maxwell and W. P. Wilson represented the petitioners and D. C. DeWitt and S. H. Smith the respondent school board.

Not Missed a Day.

The following pupils of the school at Macedonia have not been absent for the month of October: Anna Stevens, Eva McCracken, Nancy Powers, Augusta Stevens, Mary Stevens, Mabel Jennings, Albert Forrest, Hartley Cole, Mahlon Hicks, Harold Westbrook.

Kerrick—Wood.

Saturday afternoon, Nov. 4, at the home of the Rev. C. C. Crawford, in Elmira, Burten Kerrick, of Columbia Cross Roads, and Grace Wood, of Austinville, were married by the Rev. James A. Miller.

In Sullivan County.

The entire Republican ticket was elected in Sullivan county at the election last Tuesday. For state treasurer Berry had 1001 to 848 for Plummer.

What Sayre Does Not Need.

On Sunday night a number of Wilkesbarre shop employes, who had come here to look over the shops with a view of accepting a situation in them if they liked the outlook, got off from one of the trolley cars which came from Waverly. The entire party, which numbered five or more young men, was in disgusting state of intoxication and one of them was helplessly drunk. Their language while on the car was of a most filthy and profane character. If this is the kind of product that is refusing to come to Sayre on the grounds that the town is too small and has no amusements, the citizens of this place will be better pleased if they stick to their determination to remain at home.—Sayre Record.

Dean—Black.

C. Edward Dean and Miss Nellie Black, both of Wyalusing township, were maried at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Black, on Monday evening by Rev. A. J. Cook, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Wyalusing. Only the immediate families of the bride and groom were present to witness the ceremony. Mr. Dean started Tuesday afternoon for Kofa, Arizona, where he has an excellent position with his uncle, John G. Black. Mrs. Dean expects to follow her husband to their new home in the south west in about a month.

HUGHES QUIZZES HYDE

Equitable's Ex-Vice President Explains Yellow Dog Fund.

PART WENT INTO POLITICS

Famous $685,000 Loan Also Helped to Buy Off Suits and Purchase Stock. Witness Tells Why He Got $100,000 Salary—Insurance His Life Work.

New York, Nov. 14.—James Hazen Hyde, former vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, was called to the stand before the legislative insurance investigating committee and questioned at length by Mr. Hughes.

A most interesting point in his testimony was his explanation of the so called "yellow dog fund." He said that the object of the $685,000 loan by the Mercantile Trust company to the Equitable were to buy off inconvenient suits, to buy up stock of the

JAMES HAZEN HYDE.

Equitable as it came into the market and to make political contributions. The only political contribution of which he knew, he added, was that of $25,000 to Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer of the Republican national committee.

Didn't Ask For a "Raise."

Mr. Hyde sketched briefly his career before and after entering the service of the society; declared that he was offered, but refused any salary the first year, 1898, the year he was graduated from Harvard; that in 1900 his salary was fixed at $30,000 without any request from him and that the subsequent increases to $75,000 and $100,000 were likewise without solicitation or knowledge on his part. He insisted, however, that he had been trained for years for expert life insurance work by his father, the founder of the Equitable.

He caused a laugh when asked if he would have been willing to continue his services to the Equitable at the salary of $75,000 at the time his compensation was increased to $100,000 in 1903.

Couldn't Get So Much Elsewhere.

The witness smiled and answered that he certainly would have been willing to continue at a slary of $75,000. "I could not have got as much anywhere else," he said and joined in the general amusement that followed.

Mr. Hyde spoke in a voice that was audible throughout the chamber, although it trembled at first. As he went on his voice became firmer.

An echo of the bitter contest between the witness and former President Alexander of the Equitable was sounded unintentionally by the witness in a slip of the tongue. In the course of his testimony regarding the knowledge of the T. D. Jordan, trustee, account (known as the Equitable's "yellow dog fund") he had occasion to refer to the aged ex-president.

"I supposed that Alexander—I mean Mr. Alexander," he said, quickly correcting himself and supplying the title. There was a pause, and the witness colored slightly.

Insurance His Life Work.

Explaining his qualifications for the post of vice president, Mr. Hyde said:

I had always been brought up to consider it my legitimate life work to succeed my father in the Equitable, and my education from my earliest youth, both at home and abroad, had tended in that direction. I had traveled with my father all over Europe for a great many years and had translated much French and German life insurance business for him and had been present at many of the important conferences for the transaction of business and at the end had a large general knowledge of the affairs of the society long before I left the university and had an elementary sketch of its correspondence.

I had been all over this country previous to my going into business with my father and Mr. Frank Ballard, now deceased, then our superintendent of agencies. He had instilled into me his theories about the business of life insurance, and from my earliest youth I expected to make it, and hoped to make it, my life work. About a year or more before graduating from college—I think two years—I became a director of the society and attended its annual meetings, and I thought I felt more qualified to go into the life insurance business than if I had not known anything about it. I had expected to make my life work life insurance business and had lived in a life insurance atmosphere from my earliest youth.

PROSECUTE BANK WRECKERS

Action In Enterprise Case Shortly. Permanent Receiver Wanted.

Pittsburg, Nov. 12.—Attorney John Marron, representing the depositors of the defunct Enterprise National bank of Allegheny, stated that criminal action will be taken against certain people connected with the bank's failure within seventy-two hours.

He declined, however, to state against whom the proceedings will be taken, but said the action would arise in quarter sessions court. He said that much of the seeming mystery surrounding the failure had been cleared up and that it would be only a short time until the public was given the whole truth. Mr. Marron said revelations of a sensational character will result.

Receiver Cunningham is anxious that a permanent receiver be appointed for the Enterprise National bank, and that is expected to be done in a short time. The fact that Mr. Cunningham wants a permanent receiver is regarded as indicating that he has no hope of the reopening of the bank. He is anxious to resume his regular work as examiner in this city.

Pennypacker Calls For Reform.

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 12.—Governor Pennypacker has issued a proclamation calling an extra session of the legislature for Jan. 15 to consider reform legislation. The governor names seven subjects to be considered, one of which is "to increase the interest paid by banks, trust companies and similar institutions for the use of state moneys, to impose proper limitations upon the amount of such moneys to be held by each of such institutions, to make it a misdemeanor to pay or receive, to offer or request any money or valuable thing or promise for the use of such moneys other than the interest payable to the state and to adopt such other measures as may be necessary for the protection of the public money."

Priest Stabbed at the Altar.

Latrobe, Pa., Nov. 13.—While engaged in the celebration of mass at St. Rose's Catholic church at Bradenville Father Shea, the aged pastor, was attacked by John Ravonski, a drunken man, and stabbed in the chest. The priest's heavy vestments caused the blade to glance and doubtless saved his life.

Lost Certificates Found.

Philadelphia, Nov. 12.—The package of foreign exchange certificates for $100,000, which was lost while in transit from the office of C. Schumacher & Co., brokers of New York, to the Tradesmen's National bank of this city, has been found and was delivered intact to the local bank.

G. A. R. Gets $1,500,000 Hall.

Pittsburg, Nov. 9.—The Grand Army of the Republic veterans of Allegheny county, Pa., are to have a fine memorial hall to cost not less than $1,500,000. This was decided at the polls on Tuesday. Ninety per cent of the votes cast were in favor of the hall.

Emperor Nicholas Won't Visit His Capital This Winter.

LOUIS' FATE BEFORE HIM.

Russian Court Will Soon Move From Peterhof to Tsarskoe-Selo to Be Out of Reach of the Populace—Witte's Ultimatum to Poland.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 14.—Emperor Nicholas and the Russian court will not come to St. Petersburg this winter, but will go from Peterhof back to Tsarskoe-Selo, where he has been living for almost two years with the exception of the last months spent at Peterhof. Except on the occasion of the ceremony of blessing the waters last January, when the emperor narrowly escaped death from a mysterious charge of grape fired in the direction of the imperial party by a saluting battery, his majesty has not stepped inside the Winter palace for over eighteen months.

Fears Fate of Louis XVI.

Members of his majesty's entourage have strongly advised against the emperor being in St. Petersburg when the national assembly meets, recalling to his majesty's mind not without effect the fatal results of Louis XVI. agreeing to leave Versailles and place himself at the mercy of the populace of Paris in 1789.

The Polish delegation here is working hard to secure the co-operation of the Liberals, Social Democrats and workmen's organizations in another general political strike in aid of the Poles' battle for autonomy, but thus far, while they have met with much sympathy, no action has been taken for their assistance. Count Witte, whom the deputation saw, was extremely firm, declaring emphatically that the government would do nothing for Poland under compulsion and that martial law could not be abolished until the separatist movement ceases.

Seven Thousand Poles In Prison.

The Polish delegates say that over 7,000 Polish prisoners are languishing in the jails of Warsaw.

The radical press is not sparing in its denunciation of the government's action in putting all Poland under martial law, declaring that it is a plain violation of the spirit of the reform manifesto, but it is evident that the government has recovered its nerve and is determined to use severe measures if necessary. The dictatorial powers conferred on the aid-de-camp of the emperor who will be dispatched to the central provinces where agrarian disorders are spreading is proof of this. At the same time half a dozen governors, including the governors of Odessa, Tomsk and Kazan, who signally failed to prevent disorders, have been summarily dismissed at Count Witte's instigation.

Pleading For Cronstadt Mutineers.

The clergy, with other classes, continue their intercessions for the Cronstadt mutineers, 151 of whom are reported to have been condemned to death. A hundred Orthodox priests at a meeting held at the residence of the Metropolitan Antonius formulated and dispatched an appeal for mercy to the emperor.

A number of army officers, indignant at the action of Lieutenant Froloff of the imperial horse guards, who recently sabered Professor Tarle of the Polytechnic institute, have joined in a proposal to boycott Froloff and all the other officers of the horse guards unless the lieutenant clears himself of the charge or resigns within a month. They have addressed a letter to a local paper asking for the co-operation of their brother officers.

Vera Zassulich Back In Russia.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 14.—The Social Democrats have decided to attempt the enforcement of an eight hour day in all the factories of St. Petersburg. Among the Socialist leaders is Vera Zassulich, who, taking advantage of the proclamation of amnesty, has returned to Russia. Vera Zassulich has for many years been one of a group of leaders who from Geneva and other capitals have been directing the Socialist propaganda in Russia and who, it is said, brought about the present crisis there. She once attempted the life of the much dreaded General Trepoff, father of the present general, and was the first woman revolutionist who ever shot at an officer in Russia.

Hundred Killed In New Riots.

Odessa, Nov. 14.—News has reached here of fresh disorders in the small town of Krivoirog, in the government of Ekaterinoslav, in which over a hundred persons were killed, and the town was sacked and half burned. Three influential Jews left Odessa for St. Petersburg to present to the council of ministers a full account of the outbreak at Odessa, supported by documentary evidence.

No Danger to Americans.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Ambassador Meyer, who is in Washington to take final instructions from the state department before returning to his post at St. Petersburg, has informed the officials that in his opinion there is no danger of injury to Americans or American interests in St. Petersburg at the present moment.

San Francisco Sends $10,000.

San Francisco, Nov. 14.—P. N. Lilienthal, chairman of the Russian relief fund, wired $10,000 to Jacob Schiff, New York.

Thanksgiving For Two

How Little Dan Cupid Was Aided In His Campaign by a City Delicatessen Shop

By EPES W. SARGENT

Copyright, 1904, by Epes W. Sargent

"CLOSE the window. I cannot stand it!" said the girl, thrusting her hatpin back and forth in the velvet with trembling fingers. The man did as he was told and then turned to her wonderingly.

"Can't stand what?" he asked.

"That noise down in the street, those gamins tooting horns and begging for pennies. It's so different from—from last year."

The man did not answer at once, but he understood. He could see it all—the big dining room at the farm, the large table in the center with its vivid red cloth and green shaded lamp, flanked on one side by plates of apples and nuts and on the other by copies of the American Farmer and the Ransom County Herald.

How they had both stood in the doorway that last Thanksgiving night for a final glance at the dear old room! And the next time they had entered it, how everything had changed! Death, desolation, the village auctioneer and the foreclosure of the mortgage, all these had come to the little farm in less than twelve months. The two years that Janet had spent in the big city denying herself everything, working in an office during the day and in her studio room at night to send home interest money for the mortgage, now represented just so much wasted time.

They had both come from Centerville, she as a typewritist and he as a bookkeeper—both fresh from business college. The mighty city had demanded much of their country vitality and energy, so that they had seen very little of each other, considering that they had come from the same town, yet somehow both had felt comforted in the thought that the other was within reach of messenger or telephone.

Janet had lived very much to herself and her typewriter table, but Herman had managed to see more of the city and absorb more of the city's ways.

SHE SAT DOWN WEAKLY TO WATCH HIM UNPACK THE BUNDLES.

That was why he had discovered a desirable restaurant where he could secure their table d'hote dinner for Thanksgiving day at the moderate price of 60 cents each.

Now he tried to speak cheerfully and to avoid looking at the hands that trembled and the eyes that would fill in spite of Janet's strenuous efforts to maintain her composure.

"Hurry up, Janet!" he said. "The Ramona fills up early, you know."

"I would not care if every table was taken," she replied impulsively. "Oh, forgive me, Herman, when you are so kind to think of me today, but Thanksgiving dinner in a restaurant—you know that seems only for the homeless ones, and it makes me realize more than ever that I belong to that class now."

She looked around the room in which she had gathered the few family heirlooms brought down from the farm. It did not look homeless to Herman, and its possibilities as the scene of the Thanksgiving dinner were brought to mind as he caught sight of the handle of a chafing dish sticking out from the cretonne cupboard curtain.

"I say, Janet, we won't go out. We'll cook dinner right here."

She sat down very suddenly and stared at him.

"Start Thanksgiving dinner at 12 o'clock?" she asked half bitterly. "And will you please tell me how you can cook a dinner by the aid of one oil stove not guaranteed to work and a chafing dish built for two?"

"Dead easy," was his reply as he buttoned up his overcoat and reached for his hat. "You fill the oil stove and get the chafing dish ready and set out your table, and I'll do the rest."

Before she could ask any more questions the door closed behind him. Mechanically she removed her hat and reached for the gingham apron which she used when preparing her breakfasts and luncheons. Her dinners she always took at a nearby restaurant. She lifted the typewriter from its table and hid it in the closet. Then she spread a newspaper over the table. That would do for the culinary department, she argued.

She removed the student lamp from the center table and spread upon it a square piece of plain linen, handed down by Grandmother Harris. Then she went to a trunk which she had never opened since the day it left the farm, and one by one she lifted out the treasured pieces of family crockery. There were tears in her eyes now, and they were not bitter tears. She began to feel strangely content. The idea that Herman might fail to produce the viands for the feast never entered her head. Somehow or other he had always accomplished what he started to do ever since the day he had braved Farmer Green's bull to steal for her a certain red cheeked apple which she coveted.

When she heard Herman's step at the door she was just putting the chrysanthemum he had brought her to wear into a slender vase to grace the center of the table.

As she flung open the door she fairly gasped. The bundle he carried in either arm rose above his shoulder. She sat down weakly on a flat topped trunk by the "kitchen table" to watch him unpack the bundles. He checked off each package.

"One can chicken soup, one bottle pickled onions, two turkey drumsticks, ditto slices of white meat, stuffing and gravy, one tin pail of cranberry jelly, one wooden dish filled with mashed potatoes, one can lima beans, one stalk celery, one mince pie (just see how thick it is with real raisins!), one sack of nuts (have you got a hammer?) and two apples."

Janet looked at the remarkable combination with eyes turned suddenly grave.

"Herman, that cost you more than a table d'hote dinner would, and now how are we going to cook it?"

"Most of it was cooked at the delicatessen shop, and haven't we two stoves, or as good as two stoves? Draw out that oil contraption of yours."

She sprang to her feet. In a few moments the teakettle was boiling and the water was ready to pour over the coffee in the little French pot, which was then left to drip. The cranberry sauce and the rest of the cold dishes were set forth in brave array on the china from the farm.

While the soup cooked in the chafing dish the potatoes and the gravy were all heated in a big saucepan over the oil stove, and when the soup was served the beans took its place in the chafing dish. And the two young people who had forgotten to be homesick and heartsick seated themselves at either end of a ridiculously small Thanksgiving dinner table.

At last they sat over their nuts and raisins. Last year they had eaten them in front of a blazing fire. Instinctively Janet glanced toward a radiator in a distant corner of the room. It did not look cheerful, but the steam was escaping merrily from the valve, and that was something to be thankful for. Then she looked back at Herman. She ought to be thankful for him too. She gave a little sigh of contentment. He looked up quickly. It sounded like old times.

"Do you know," she said wonderingly, "I never supposed this place could be so much like home."

"Home is what people make it—what two people make it," he corrected.

He had stopped picking over the nuts now and his hands were clasped under the table. He did not want her to see that they were shaking. He had made the plunge so suddenly!

"I don't think this room is just what we ought to have, but we can get a nice little flat of three or four rooms and you would not have to stop your work, so long as you like it so much, but we would make sure the front room was cheerful and light for you to write in. I think it's a sure cure for homesickness for both of us."

She sat staring at him, at first stolidly; then gradually the color came into her cheeks and the expression on her face changed.

"I don't understand," she said, but Herman knew that she understood him perfectly.

"I am just offering you a prescription, signed H. Blake, M. D., to be taken three times a day, breakfast, dinner and supper—a husband and a cozy little flat."

Janet was regaining her composure.

"With delicatessen cooking?"

"Well," he maintained stoutly, "it is considerably better than poor restaurant food, and when Scollard & Co. wake up to an appreciation of my real worth you can queen it over a real flat and a real maid"—

"I think I will try the prescription."

And that is why Herman Blake has always maintained that while most men win their brides by the aid of the florist or the candy maker he wooed Janet through a delicatessen shop.

JANUARY JONES'S Leasing and Developing Company STOCK IS IN Great Demand

The favorable developments already reported are surpassed by those that have taken place recently, and has created a big demand for the stock of this company. The fact that John McKean, representing Charles Schwab, and associate of B. J. Reilly, of the famous Reilly lease, has immediately upon the expiration of the latter lease secured a lease on the ground of the Diamondfield-Triangle Mining Company within fifty feet of the holdings of the January Jones Leasing and Developing Company, is an indication that the greatest operators in the district are following the moves of Mr. January Jones. Within only a few steps of our Triangle lease McKane and his associates are now preparing to install a powerful hoisting plant preparatory to sinking to the 200-foot level. A great force of men will be employed and the activity of the scene can well be imagined when we state that our shaft and that of the Gold Coin and McKean leases will be so close together and in such relative position as to form, if connected, the lines of a triangle the sides of which would be less than fifty feet long. So remarkable are the developments on the Gold Coin, adjoining our Triangle lease, that the owners of the lease on the former property have been offered $200,000 to sell out.

At the 160-foot level of the Gold Coin ore is being mined that runs up to $8,000 per ton, and to illustrate the proximity of the Gold Coin holdings to the Triangle, the workmen in the Trangle can distinctly hear the miners breaking down the rich ore in the Gold Coin. These developments are proving beyond doubt the magnificent judgment used by January Jones in the selection of the leases of our company and we are now assured that we own two great bonanzas—this Triangle lease and the one on the Atlanta.

That there will be an immense appreciation in the values of the company's shares is an absolute certainty and pleases us to know that we have again presented a highly profitable investment to our clients. Those who have not already invested should take advantage of the opportunity that still remains to secure a few of the shares remaining unsold out of the first allotment of 50,000 shares at 50 cents per share.

The capital stock of the January Jones Leasing and Developing Company is 200,000 shares, of a par value of $1.00 per share. Stock full paid and non-assessable. Treasury stock, 100,000 shares. For further details, prospectus, &c., address

MASS OF SORES

Awful Suffering of Little Boy from an Itching Humour

CURED BY CUTICURA

Not One Square Inch of Skin on His Whole Body Unaffected

"My little son, a boy of five, broke out with an itching rash. Three doctors prescribed for him, but he kept getting worse until we could not dress him any more. They finally advised me to try a certain medical college, but its treatment did no good. At the time I was induced to try Cuticura he was so bad that I had to cut his hair off and put the Cuticura Ointment on him on bandages, as it was impossible to touch him with the bare hand. There was not one square inch of skin on his whole body that was not affected. He was one mass of sores. The bandages used to stick to his skin and in removing them it used to take the skin off with them, and the screams from the poor child were heart-breaking. I began to think that he would never get well, but after the second application of Cuticura Ointment I began to see signs of improvement, and with the third and fourth applications the sores commenced to dry up. His skin peeled off twenty times, but it finally yielded to the treatment. Now I can say that he is entirely cured, and a stronger and healthier boy you never saw than he is to-day." DR. KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY

Breaks no Hearts, Excuses no Crimes.

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it cannot help, it does not harm. It is composed of vegetable ingredients and does not heat or inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements which afflict women, the action of Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this, in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fullness of words which mere business certificates never possess. It makes no drunkards—excuses no crimes—breaks no hearts. In its coming there is hope, and in its wings there is healing. We challenge a trial and are confident of the result. Your druggist has it. ONE DOLLAR a Bottle. Bear in mind the name and address: Dr. David KENNEDY, Rondout, New York.

ELECT CHARLES KING

Norwegians by a Big Vote Give Crown to Prince of Denmark.

REPUBLICANS DISAPPOINTED.

Had Expected to Poll Many More Ballots Than They Did—New Monarch, Who Will Be Haakon VII., Is Grandson of Christian IX.

Christiania, Nov. 14.—Results of the plebiscite show that Prince Charles of Denmark is the choice of Norway as king. The vote was 246,431 to 64,445 in favor of a monarchy.

A peculiar part of the plebiscite is the strong monarchial majorities obtained in the strongholds of the republican leaders. The republican votes came from the interior and the upper districts, while the monarchial sentiment was strong in the vicinity of Christiania and along the coast. The republicans counted on polling 33 per cent of the votes, but got only 21.

Prince Charles is the second son of the Crown Prince Christian-Frederic of Denmark and grandson of Christian

PRINCE CHARLES OF DENMARK.

IX., who is called the father of European royalty. The second son of King Christian is George I., king of Greece. His oldest daughter is Queen Alexandra of England, and his second daughter, Dagmar, is the dowager empress of Russia, widow of Alexander III. His third daughter, Thyra, is the wife of the Duke of Cumberland. Prince Waldemar, the youngest of Christian's children, married the Princess Marie of Orleans, whose husband is the legitimist heir to the throne of France.

Prince Charles, who has announced that he will ascend the throne of Norway under the title of Haakon VII., the last king of the separate monarchy of Norway having been Haakon VI., married in 1896 Maud, princess royal of Great Britain and Ireland. He has one son, Prince Alexander, born at Sandringham, England, in 1903. Prince Charles is thirty-three years old.

Chinese Boycott Revives.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Cable advices to the state department from Singapore, Straits Settlements, bring the news that the anti-American boycott in that quarter, which was thought to be practically suppressed, has, on the contrary, taken on a decided serious aspect. Many anonymous letters have been received, probably by merchants who have dealt in American goods, which have had the effect of completely paralyzing the trade, which in Singapore is very largely conducted through Chinese merchants.

Sure Pierson Was Tied.

Mount Vernon, O., Nov. 14.—Further evidence that young Stuart Pierson, the Kenyon college student, was bound to the railroad track has been secured by Prosecutor Stillwell and Coroner Scarborough. They have made a thorough examination of the clothing worn by Pierson on the night he met his death. The coroner says that the wrists and ankles of Pierson's underclothing were examined particularly and about 100 small particles of rope fiber were found.

Kicked to Death In Football Game.

San Francisco, Nov. 14.—Clarence Von Bokkelen, a student of the Santa Clara High school, was kicked in a football game with the San Jose High school team and died a few hours later. Two residents of Santa Clara have declared they heard certain members of the San Jose team say that Von Bokkelen was to be put out of action, as with him disabled San Jose was pretty certain to win.

Lash For Wife Beaters.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Judge Kimball declared in favor of the whipping post for wife beaters.

WARRANT OUT FOR LAWSON.

C. W. Barron Alleges That Financier Has Libeled Him.

Boston, Nov. 14.—At the request of Charles W. Barron Judge Wentworth of the municipal court issued a warrant for the arrest of Thomas W. Lawson on a charge of criminal libel preferred by Mr. Barron. The case results from statements alleged to have been made in a magazine article by Mr. Lawson, and the question of the issuance of a warrant has been the subject of hearings covering a period of several weeks.

Mr. Barron, the complainant, is proprietor of a bureau for the distribution of financial news in this city.

Shortly before noon the court issued the warrant in accordance with its decision, and an officer was sent to serve the document on Mr. Lawson.

Before the warrant had been served an agreement between counsel was affected whereby Mr. Lawson is to appear in court next Saturday and submit to the service of the warrant. Meanwhile, counsel for Mr. Lawson stated, the defendant in this suit will apply for a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Barron for criminal libel in matter printed in the market sheets issued by Mr. Barron's bureau.

OPPOSE RATE LEGISLATION.

Railway Employees Present a Protest to the President.

Washington, Nov. 14.—An earnest protest was made to the president against proposed railroad freight rate legislation. The protest was filed by representatives of five of the great labor organizations connected with railroading—the engineers, firemen, conductors, switchmen and trainmen.

The members of the delegat on which called on the president represented the several organizations. They pointed out to him that railroad rate legislation logically meant the lowering of rates. This, they contended, will be followed by a lessening of the earning power of railroads and consequently by reduction eventually of the wages of railroad employees.

In response President Roosevelt assured the delegation that it was not his purpose or the purpose of those who favored railroad rate regulation to do anything that might injure the railroads of the country or, incidentally, the employees of the railroads. He said that it was his purpose that all classes—railroads, shippers and employees—should have perfectly fair treatment. He was of the opinion that the proposed legislation would not mean a reduction necessarily in railroad rates and suggested that the members of the delegation, therefore, were proceeding on a wrong understanding of the situation.

Get The Best

THAT'S "HOSTETTER'S,"

From 1853 to the present time it has been impossible for anyone to make a better or safer remedy for all Stomach, Liver, Kidney, or Bowell complaints than the famous

CANVASSING THE BALLOTS.

Hearst Getting Action on His Call For Recount In New York.

New York, Nov. 14.—The actual canvass of the votes cast in Tuesday's election was begun by the aldermen of the boroughs of Queens and Richmond sitting as boards of canvassers. In Brooklyn, as in Manhattan and the Bronx, the aldermen met only to effect organization, adjourning after electing chairmen.

Discrepancies were found between the tally sheets and the election night returns early in the count in Richmond county, and William Allaire Shortt, representing the Municipal Ownership league, announced that he would apply to Justice Dickey of the supreme court, Brooklyn, for a writ of mandamus to compel the board of canvassers to open the envelopes containing void and protested ballots.

There was a warm session in Queens when the board of county canvassers met there. Protest after protest was hurled at the Tammany representatives by Mr. Hearst's lawyers. The envelope containing the tally sheets for the Fifty-second district was found unsealed and empty. Envelopes from other districts showed evidences of having been tampered with. Officers were sent after the inspectors of these districts, and as the revelations proceeded the board was thrown in a chaotic state.

All New York Amendments Carried.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Returns on the proposed amendments to the constitution received thus far show that the total vote was about half of that for the various candidates. Each of the amendments has received a substantial majority. The only amendments which received much attention were those providing funds for good roads and giving the legislature the authority to fix the hours of labor of municipal employees.

Mayor McClellan Spent Nothing.

New York, Nov. 14.—Mayor McClellan filed the required certificate in the county clerk's office. He says he spent nothing, directly or indirectly, to secure his re-election.

Whitehead, Torpedo Inventor, Dead.

London, Nov. 14.—Robert Whitehead, inventor of the torpedo which bears his name, died at Shrivenham, Berkshire. The idea of the self propelling torpedo originated with an officer of the Austrian marine artillery, but the first practical trials of the torpedo were made in 1864 by Whitehead, who was the superintendent of iron works at Fiume. From that time on the Whitehead torpedo has undergone many improvements, and the right to use it has been purchased by the United States and most of the European nations.
